

Small Town, Big Changes

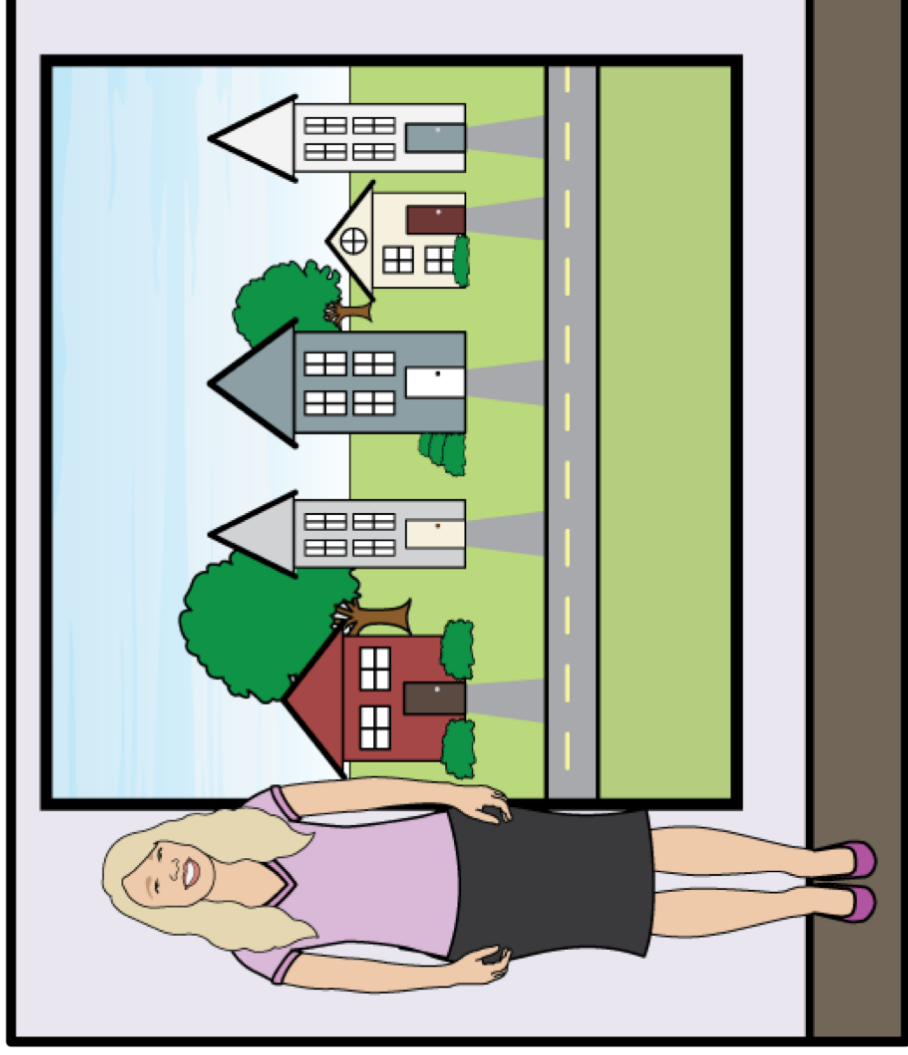

Level D

by Molly Tittle

Illustrated by Katie Foster

Bind This End

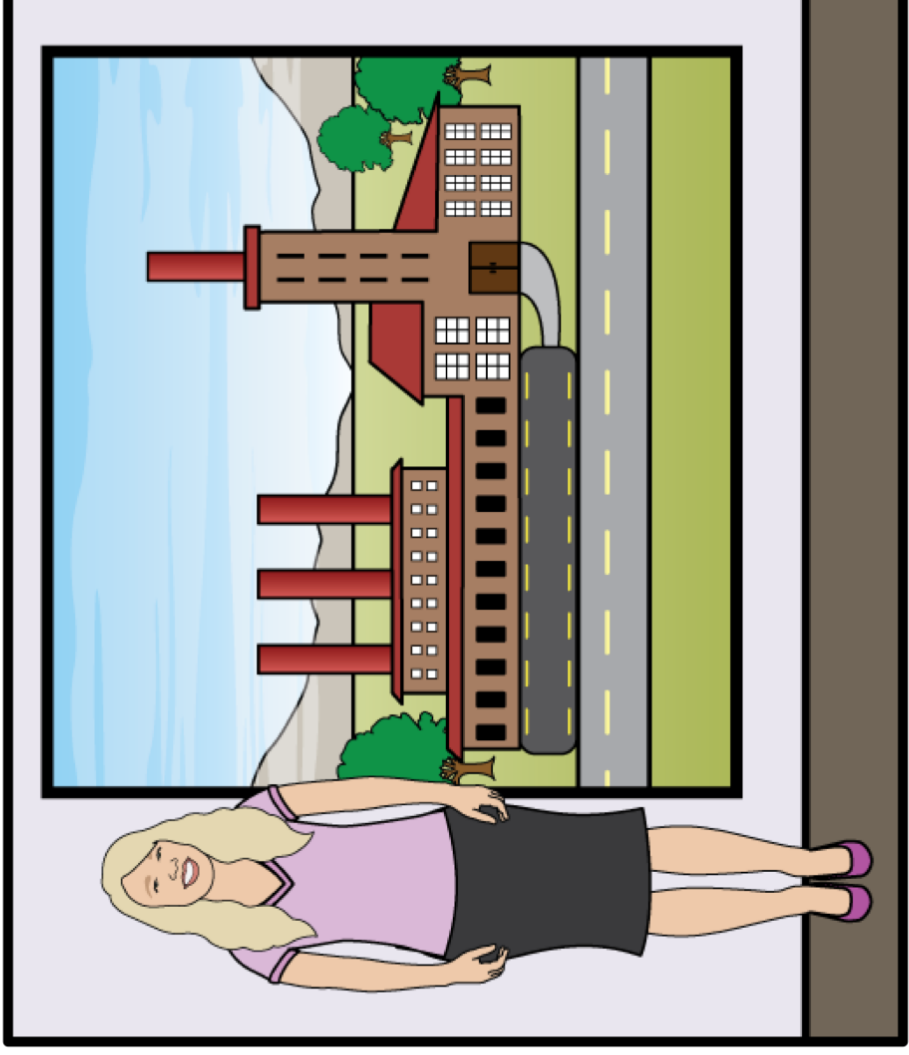

Val lives in a small town, but not for long ! She sees many changes in her town.

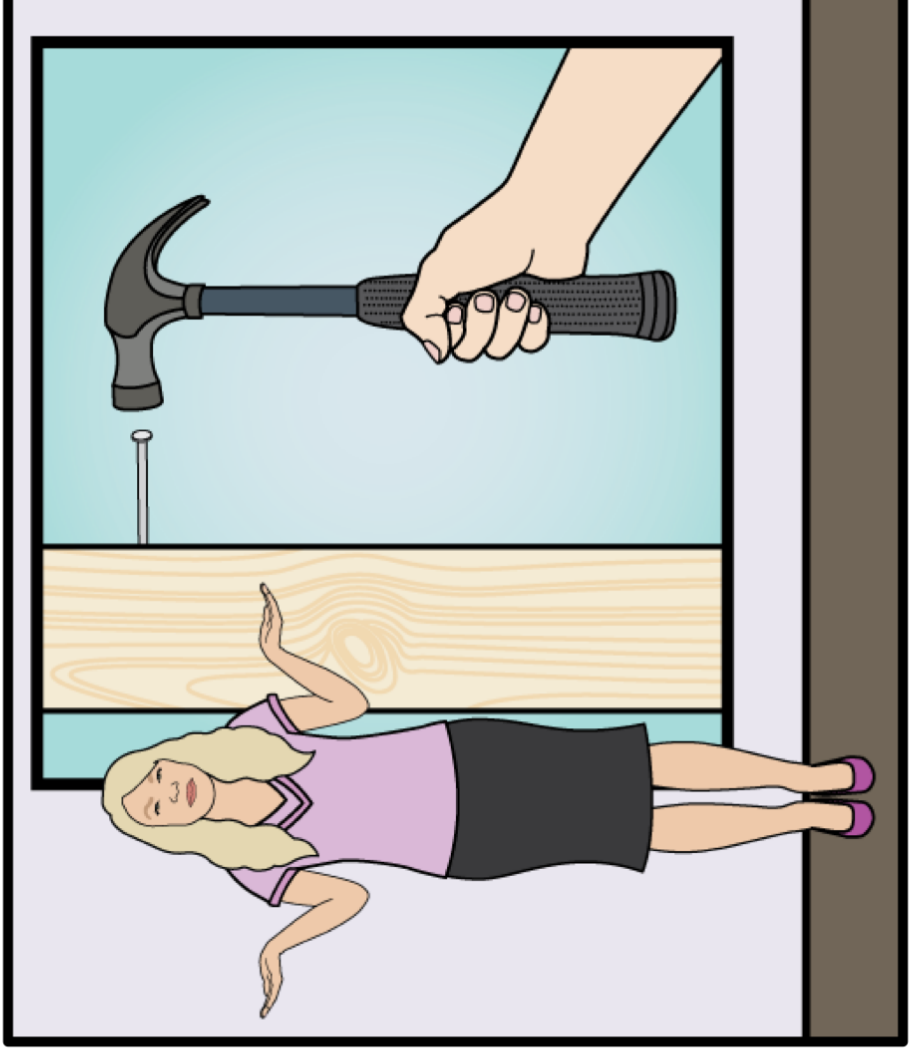

Val sees many trees being cut down.

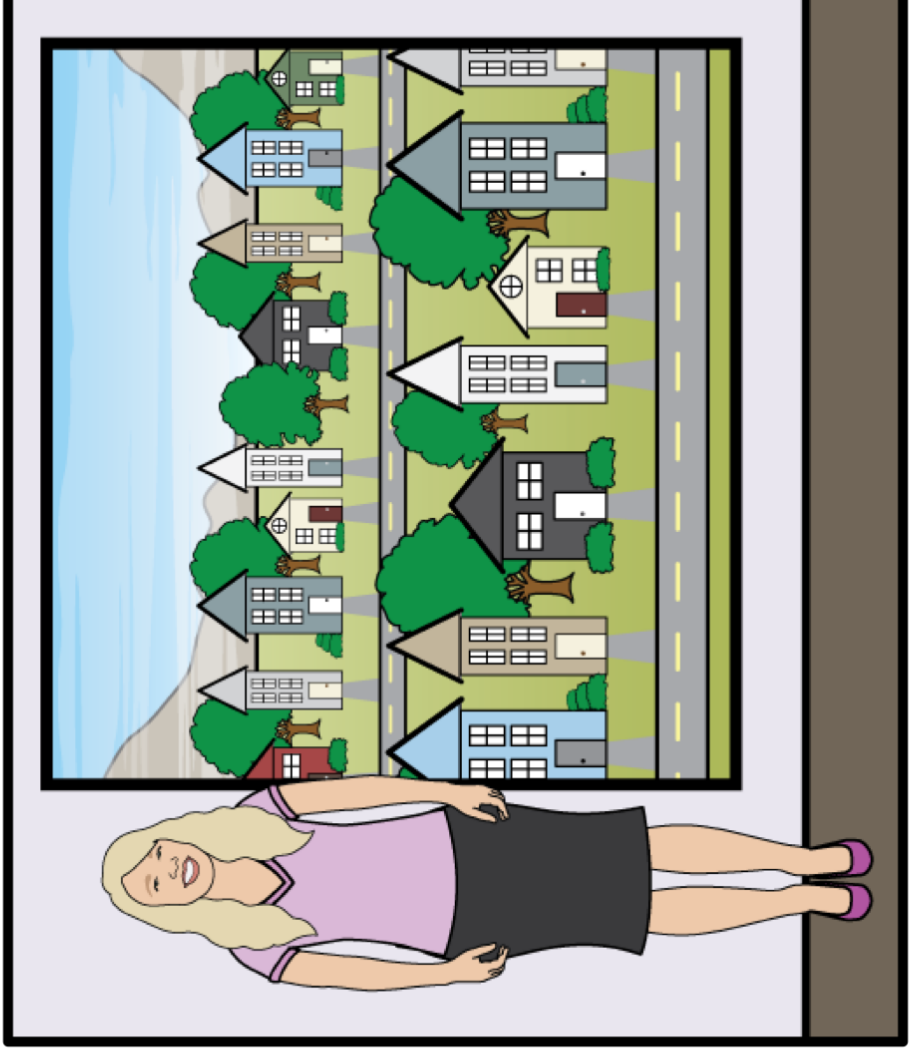

"What's going on here ?" she says with a frown.

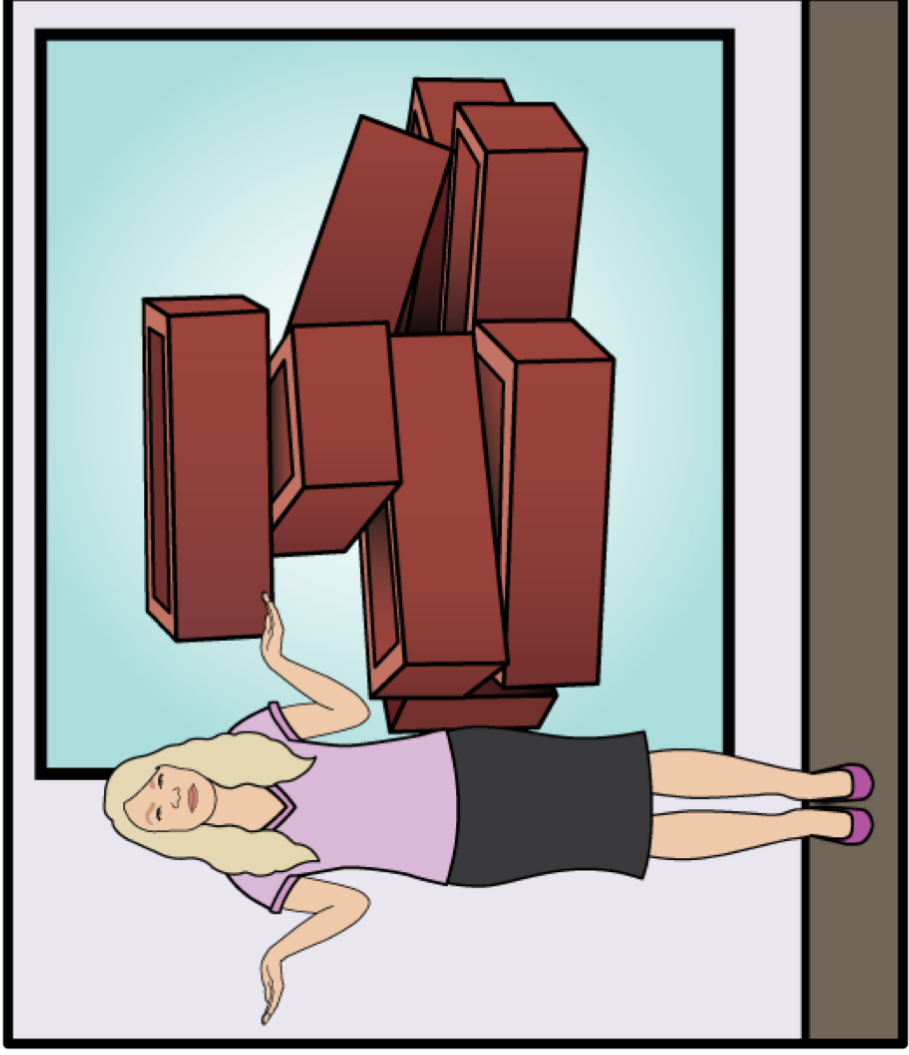

Val sees a new factory where many trees used to be. Many new people move to her town to work at the new factory.

Val hears hammers pounding all around.
"What's going on here?" she says with a frown.

Val sees new homes being built on her street. The town needs more homes for all of the new people.

Val sees piles of bricks stacked on the ground. "What's going on here?" she says with a frown.

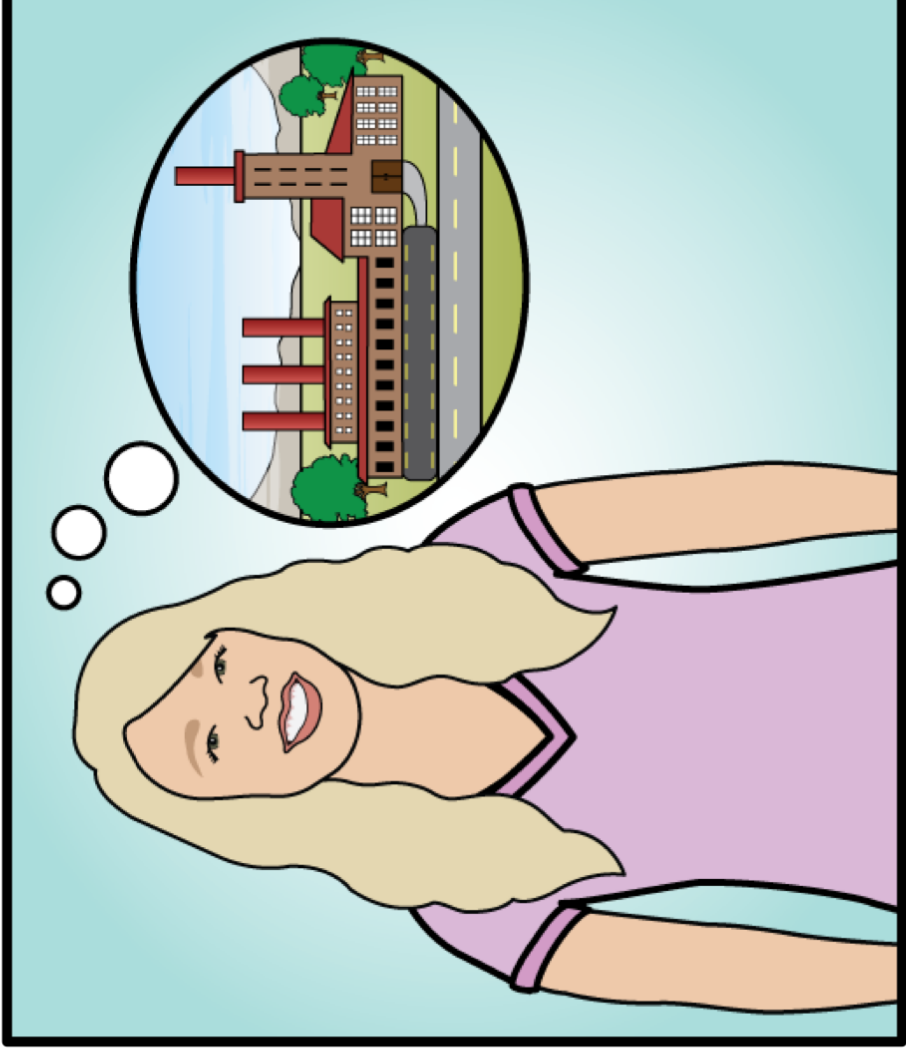

Val sees a new school being built. The town needs a new school for all the new students.

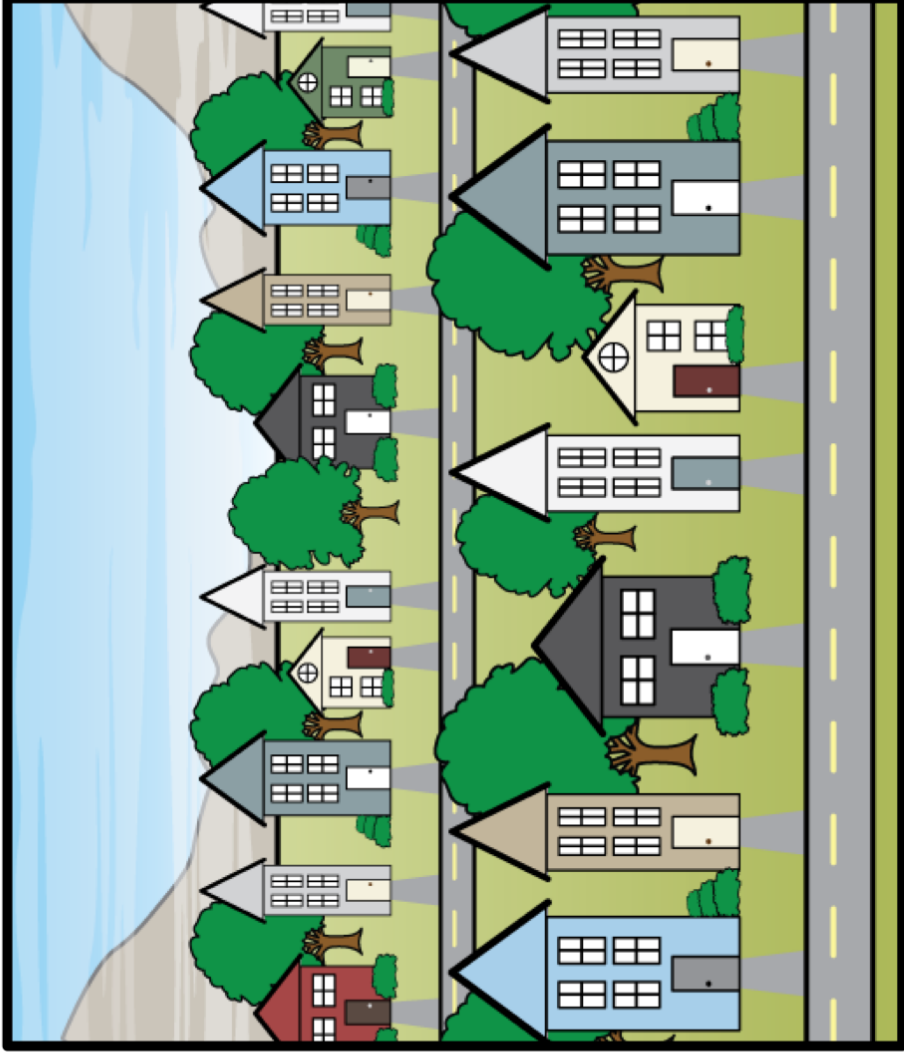

Val sees people with shovels, digging up the ground. "What's going on here?" she says with a frown.

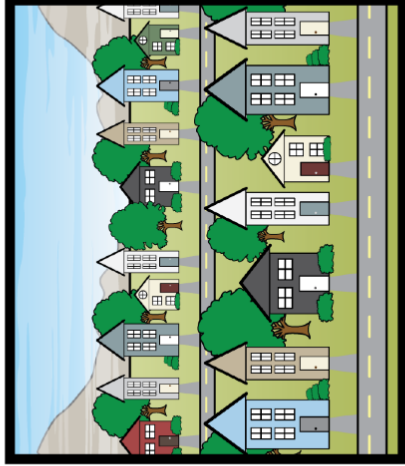

Val sees new trees being planted. The town needs more trees to replace the ones they cut down.

"I know what's going on," Val says out loud. The new factory has caused many changes all around !

Her small town is full of new people. It is now a big town! Val understands the changes and turns her frown upside down.

The End